Report Highlights:

As reported in TC9017, the Government of the UAE has banned imports of pork from all countries because of concerns that the H1N1 virus may spread via pork. ATO Dubai met with officials to review USDA and international guidance stressing that pork is safe to eat. Officials advised the exporters and importers of pork products should hold their shipments (either in the UAE or the port or export) for a few days until they could gather more information and re-evaluate their ban. Local retailers have not received instructions to clear pork products from their shelves.
